Chapter 1 : Framed

[image] [image]

"Framed"

Countess Rosalia devised an elaborate scheme that would ensure her niece ascended the throne. She decided to get rid of the spare, the thorn to her niece's side. The countess secretly poisoned Jennette's glass and framed Athanasia in hopes of removing her from inheriting the throne, unaware that Claude had never had the intention of making Athanasia his heir. Unable to contain his wrath, Claude tried to mercilessly execute Athanasia by hanging without a trial

Athanasia was completely clueless and when she was wrongly accused of poisoning Jeanette she couldn't say anything no she did say that she didn't poison her and she never had any role in poisoning Jeanette her voice was unheard she was taken to a cell and kept under confinement why does Jeanette gain her father's affection?

Why does Jeanette get everything when She has nothing?

She was by father no Claude's side longer than Jeanette was

If She could get another chance to change her life decisions she would do it in a heartbeat
Lucas left to go find the world tree she has nobody to save her now

She sighs "I wish could just meet him one last time to say my goodbyes" and confess to him after all he was her only friend, her companion the only one who understood her in this cruel world

Lovely princess athy deserves so much I feel saddened by what Claude did to her he is such a bastard he deserves to get shitted on Heh sorry for the rant

Chapter 2 : Meeting Him

[image] [image]

"Meeting Him"

She is startled out of her thoughts when the door of her cell rattles
"Was it her time to go now? To be hanged to death?" She thought

A man dressed in a cloak enters the dark cell
He has black hair, has black eyes that show a certain jeweled glimmer in it

"Ho? Is this how the great emperor treats his daughter?"

"Ha!" She laughs miserably
"Have I ever been treated as his daughter tho? That fucking bastard has left me to rot in here!"

"Now, now what if you had the chance to get away from here? But you had to forsake obelia" he says with a nonchalant attitude

"I would accept it in a heartbeat. Obelia has forsaken me first, to hell with obelia and that bastard"

"Well I have a proposition for you then girlie"
"I can teleport you to the western kingdom you can make a living there it is pretty far away from obelia. I will fake your death. I'll be to create a fake body for you that wasn't able to take it anymore and kills herself in this cell"
"So what do you say?"

"T-this is too much why are you willing to go to such lengths to save me the bastard child?"

"Let's just say it was a promise to someone" (Anastacius secretly met up with Diana while she was pregnant with Athanasia Diana knew that he was being possessed by Aeternitas but she asked him to keep her child safe from Claude if he goes crazy)

"What is your name? What can I call you?"
"You can call me Carax"
"Okay, mister Carax"

Mr. Carax creates a clone that looks exactly like me and has it kill itself

"Now I'm going to teleport you straight to the western kingdom okay kid?"

"Stay safe I guess," he says without any emotion

"Will I be able to see you again?"

"maybe when the time is right you will find me again"

"Thanky-"
Her voice gets cut off as she got teleported

She looks around her surroundings to see she is now in an alleyway

Hi
Hope you're doing great
Have a good day☺

Chapter 3 : All alone

[image] [image]

"Gods" I'm finally away from him

what am I going to do now

I have no clothes food to eat like I have nothing

It's so cold

I start hugging myself when I hear a small jangle idk

I check my pockets to see coins stuffed in my pocket

Gods my pockets are filled to the brim

I am hungry I should just go get some food I'm practically homeless now let's leave other things away for now

I look around for a while and I see a bakery finally

I go inside by the bread, eat it and take some along with me

The sun was setting and I had nowhere to sleep

Will I have to sleep in some alleyway now?

There aren't any inns or places to stay in the area I am right now

Crap

After walking for a while I find a park oh thank God it has benches in there just lay down it is cold but I cannot genuinely do anything

I am all alone now

"Lucas please come back I miss you" I suddenly start getting really drowsy

I don't know when I fell asleep

Authors pov I guess
Athanasia sleeps on the bench in a park with newspapers on top of her

She is so cold

It's as if she's going to freeze to death

The park is almost abandoned? Like nobody goes to it anymore

Next morning

Empress Navier goes out to walk around the kingdom in disguise with her royal guard while she is walking from a distance she sees a park and there is something on the bench

Curiosity takes the best of her and she goes to see what it is

When she reaches the bench, she sees a little girl in clothes that nobles would usually wear shivering and almost turning blue because of the cold she calls out to her guard and makes him take her to the imperial doctor

She beckons over her carriage and rushes towards the palace for the imperial doctor

And the whole time

She keeps thinking about the child

She is really worried about the child

She wonders why she was sleeping in the park?

Did she run away?

She doesn't know

Hope you liked it!
Have a great day

"Saved"

Authors pov
After saving the girl from potentially a severe case of hypothermia the girl falls into a coma. Navier comes every day to visit the child. She sits on the chair near her bed and talks to her. she feels a certain connection to the child she doesn't know why. She wants to protect her hold her close tell her that everything is alright.

Navier yearns for the day the child will wake up after 3 days

the girl wakes up all confused and scared there are so many questions swarming in her mind where is she? Is she back again in the palace? Did Claude bring her back? What's going to happen now?

She is brought out of her train of thoughts when an ethereal fairy-like woman enters the room

"am I in heaven?" Athanasia wondered out loud

"hi sweetheart, you are finally up I'm so glad that you woke up I was getting worried!" Navier coaxed

"Uh hi miss where am I ?"

She is confused about what is happening why is she here?

" You are in the empress palace darling!"
"T-the e-mpress palace??" Athanasia is startled

"How did I get here?" She asks

"I found you almost half-dead on a bench in an abandoned park"

"oh" that's all She could say this fairy-like woman had saved her from dying

"you should have just let me die, no one cares anyway" She scoffed bitterly

"now don't you say that child I'm here I've come to care for you I would love to keep you here" Navier pats her head and hugs her

Athanasia just bursts out crying she has never felt this parental warmth from Claude or lily

"There there you can cry all you want" Navier whispers to Athanasia still hugging her and calming her down

After Navier calms the child down

She asks "what's your name sweetheart?"
"My name is Athanasia"

"Oh my, what a lovely name you've got!" Navier exclaims

Athanasia blushed no one ever complimented her name or treated her this way except her maids

"T-thank you miss"

"Oh, darling no need to call me to miss you can just call me Navier okay?" She says to Athanasia

"Ok-kay Mi- no Navier"

"Now darling may I ask what you were doing in the park all alone?"

"I escaped from my family" "they were about to kill me" she whispers with teary eyes

Navier just hugs the child

"Baby it's okay hmm would you like to stay here with me and my husband? I assure you you would be safe from your family" Navier says soothingly

"Would you like to freshen up first?"

"Um but I don't have any clothes"

"I bought you some clothes and other necessities"

"Thank you so much you're so kind"
she feels so overwhelmed by the affection Navier is showing to her

She feels like it's almost a dream and one day she's going to wake up and see that bastard Claude again if it's a dream she doesn't want to wake up

She gets ready fixes her hair and wears the clothes that navier got her

She hears a knock on the door

"Yes?"

"Hi sweetheart it's me are you ready to go?"

"Um yes I'm ready" she was feeling nervous about this whole thing

She leaves the room and sees Navier outside waiting for her

"hi!" She says to navier it kind of surreal to be here honestly she feels accepted by navier here she doesn't know how Navier's husband is going to react to her staying here but she can only wait and see what happens next

Navier notices Athanasia's nervousness and she holds her hand and gives it a squeeze

"it's okay Athanasia don't worry it'll be fine"
She just nods back in reply

They walk through the hallways and stop in front of a door navier knocks on the door and they hear a faint 'come in'

What Athanasia didn't know was that heinley had been pacing back and forth in the office ever since he found out that navier is bringing her over to meet him he is nervous and honestly excited about meeting Athanasia

Navier talked about adopting Athanasia to heinley they know what her origins are and what Athanasia's position was beforehand

Navier opens the door

Athanasia peeks her head in and sees a tall attractive man with tousled champagne-colored hair and magenta eyes chapter 6 : adoption

[image] [image]

"Adoption"

It's been over a month that Athanasia has been staying with Navier and Heinley and she has been happy and finally at peace.

She's been meeting up with her uncle kosair to learn sword fighting. she is an absolute marvel with her sword.

She was suddenly shaken from her thoughts by a knock at her door.

She goes to look who is at the door and sees Lord McKenna she curtsies and greets him

"Emperor Heinley and Empress Navier are requesting your presence Athanasia" he states.
"Shall we go then?" Athanasia asks.

They head to the Emperor's Study Lord McKenna knocks and hear a sharp 'enter'

Athanasia enters the study to see both heinley and navier sitting she greets both of them "come take a seat sweetheart" navier says to her while patting down the chair next to her

"My darling girl how are you faring?" Navier asks Athanasia

"I'm doing well your majesty" Athanasia responds

"nonsense don't call me your majesty just call me navier sweetheart"

"As you wish your- sorry navier" Athanasia replies

"Sweetheart I've been talking with Heinley and we've decided that we want to adopt you! But it's completely up to you if you want to get adopted. There's no pressure or anything." Navier softly tells Athanasia.

Athanasia felt her breath hitch. She was hesitant about this whole adoption thing.

Claude never loved her.

Lily never loved her.

Will they also do the same and leave her for dead?

"the time I've spent here has been better than in obelia where I'd been my entire life. What if you decide that you don't want me anymore?" Athanasia says nervously.

"Don't worry kiddo. I know that you are hesitant about this but trust me, trust us. We love you. You're like a daughter I've never had." Heinley looks at Athanasia with pure adoration in his eyes.

"I'd love nothing more than this then" Athanasia replies, her eyes glistening with tears.

Heinley opens his arms and Athanasia ran towards him, Hugging Heinley. Navier joined the hug.

Oh what a start to the new happy royal family.

I had this little chapter in my drafts for so long lmao.

I didn't think that this story was gonna get more than 50 votes haha.

Anyways have a great day!

Chapter 7 : parents

[image] [image]

"Parents"

The next day after Heinley broke the news about adoption. Athanasia, Heinley, and Navier were gathered in Heinley's study. Today they were going to sign the adoption papers that were going to make Athanasia their daughter.

Navier was giddy even though her face doesn't show it. She finally was getting a child, a daughter at that. She felt really blessed. Ever since the day she had met her Heinley she was literally getting everything that she had dreamed of when she was young.

She had a loving king, she was the queen, her people adored her, and she was getting a daughter. It felt like a dream that she would wake up from at any time. If it was a dream she never wanted to wake up from it.

They signed the papers and performed a magic ritual that would make Athanasia their blood daughter.
(Just like blood adoption from hp fanfics lol).

Heinley felt his eyes glisten. He was getting a daughter. She was perfect, she was just like his queen. Everything that he could've possibly wished for had been achieved today. He vowed to always cherish his queen along with his princess.

Athanasia was happy. She was in a place where she finally had parents that loved her. She never knew her mother but when she felt Navier's warmth she thought that's what a mother would feel like.

Claude despised her, his own blood daughter and here Heinley was treating her as if she was his own child. He was goofy and loved sword fighting with her.

She finally had the life she had always dreamed about.

lol hello, guess who decided to update today.

Yeah, so Athanasia now looks like a mix of Heinley and Navier because they blood-adopted her. I've been reading too many Harry Potter fanfics lmao spare me.

Have a great day!

Chapter 8 : Family

[image] [image] [image] [image]

"Family"

Athanasia after being adopted by Navier and Heinley was flourishing. She was a genius she absorbed all knowledge given to her like a sponge.

She was asked if she wished to become Heinley's heir, the one who would rule the Western empire.

She blatantly refused. She wanted to become a swordswoman like her mother was before she got married to that soveshit.

Navier enjoyed sword fighting with Athanasia as her favorite pastime when she was not dealing with paperwork.

Navier looked the happiest when she was with her family. Her brother Koshair, her husband Heinley, and her daughter Athanasia and Athanasia aimed to always make her mother happy.

Athanasia was informed by her parents that the obelian empire was set on fire by the black magician.

Athanasia's heart raced but she was relieved because her magician, Lucas was back. It wouldn't be long till her Lucas will find her.

Athanasia was on her way to her father's office when she encountered Duke ergi, her father's close associate.

She felt deep affection for the man. He was like an annoying older brother to her. But he had proclaimed himself as her uncle.

"Athy darling! It's lovely to see you again." He joyously spoke.

"Uncle ergi." Athanasia greeted him.

"Now now don't be so cold darling aren't I your favorite uncle?" He boisterously said.

"Uncle koshair is better than you," Athanasia mumbled under her breath.

"You wound me, athy darling." Duke ergi wiped a nonexistent tear from his eye.

"I'm heading towards father's study. Are you heading there as well?" Athanasia asked.

"I'm glad you asked yes I am. Lead the way, sweetheart." Duke ergi followed Athanasia in Heinley's study.

Athanasia was about to knock on the door when McKenna walked out of the study muttering "incompetent bastard" "lazy asshole" and "will kill me someday."

"Athy! Hi sweetheart! Your dad was waiting for you." McKenna greeted them as he walked by them.

"I'm here too." Duke ergi voiced.

"You're just invisible uncle." Athanasia laughed. Duke ergi grumbled.

"Father?" Athanasia spoke as she walked inside the study. Navier and Heinley were sitting on the couch bickering.

Heinley got up and clasped Athanasia's hands in his. "I missed you, baby girl."

Athanasia grumbled. "It's only been a day Dad."

Heinley rubbed the back of his neck in embarrassment. "Am I not allowed to miss my daughter?" He questioned as he patted her head.

"I'm here too asshole." Duke ergi whined.

"Ergi! No curse words in front of my daughter." Heinley scolded as he covered Athanasia's ears.

"ahem apologies for my inappropriate language." Duke ergi coughed.

Heinley clicked his tongue. "Not good enough. Now what are you here for?" Heinley asked.

"You told me to come here?" Ergi looked at heinley quizzically. "Did you forget?" He added.

Heinley shook his head. "No! I remember. Is that thing done?" He asked, acting very suspiciously. Duke ergi nodded his head.

"It's done, my friend." They shook hands and shared a hug.

"Congratulations my dear friend," Heinley spoke. "I'll be staying in my room if you need me." Duke ergi chuckled.

"Athy sweetheart let's hand out tomorrow hm? It was nice to see you again empress navier." He said as he left the room.

Heinley and Navier now shifted their attention toward Athanasia.

"Dad? I was curious about something." Athanasia asked.

"Hypothetically speaking if you woke up as a bird with golden feathers how would you deal with it?" Athanasia added.

Heinley gasped dramatically and Navier covered her mouth with her palm.

"You inherited that gene too?" Heinley asked in shock.

"You're a bird?" Athanasia asked in confusion. Heinley shifted into his bird form "queen" Athanasia also shifted into a much smaller form of a bird.

Navier gasped. "Queen and baby queen." To navier they both looked so adorable.

Um hello? I have resurrected from the grave to give you this chapter haha.

Heinley is a certified bbg. Yes, athy dear is also a bird. How cute.

Next chapter we finally meet Lucas. Bro literally set the obelian empire on fire for his athy darling.

Anyways have a great day I'll be back in 6 months now.
